

BARBARIAN PATHS OF THE SCHOLIA DIASPROS

PATH OF THE TANTRAZERKER

For some Barbarians, rage isn't a focused battle fury but a complete emotional meltdown. The Tantrazerker channels the raw, unrestrained chaos of a toddler's tantrum into a devastating force on the battlefield. Their rage is a whirlwind of stomping feet, flailing fists, and primal screams that overwhelm their enemies. However, this pure emotional outburst comes at a cost, as the sheer force of their fury can compromise even the most well-designed diaper's integrity.

TANTRUM

Starting when you choose this path at 3rd level, your rage manifests as an overwhelming tantrum. When you enter your rage, you can choose to begin a Tantrum. If you do, for the duration of your rage you can make a single melee weapon attack as a bonus action on each of your turns after this one.

When you use your bonus action to make an attack during your Tantrum, you must immediately make a diaper check with disadvantage.

IRONBOTTOMED MOBILITY

At 6th level, your stubborn refusal to be stopped allows you to shrug off effects meant to hinder you. When you are subjected to an effect that would reduce your speed or cause you to be paralyzed or restrained, you can use your reaction to ignore that effect for yourself until the end of your next turn.

You can use this feature a number of times equal to your proficiency bonus, and you regain all expended uses when you finish a long rest.

UPSETTING PRESENCE

Beginning at 10th level, your tantrum is so emotionally potent it unnerves those around you. Any creature hostile to you that starts its turn within 10 feet of you while you are raging must succeed on a Wisdom saving throw (DC equal to 8 + your proficiency bonus + your Constitution modifier) or have disadvantage on attack rolls against targets other than you until the start of its next turn.

UNSTOPPABLE OUTBURST

Starting at 14th level, your tantrums are legendary in their intensity. When you are in your Tantrum, your bonus action attack deals an additional 1d8 damage of the weapon's type. Additionally, you are immune to the charmed and frightened conditions while raging.

PATH OF THE FEARLESS

ONE

This path is for the Barbarian who stands tall as a brave “big kid,” a bastion of courage in the face of things that go bump in the night. Their rage is not born of anger, but of fierce, protective defiance. They are the ones who shout “I’m not scared!” and mean it, their very presence on the battlefield inspiring allies and giving monsters pause. They are the unwavering shield for their smaller, more timid friends.

I’M NOT SCARED!

When you choose this path at 3rd level, your bravery becomes a tangible force. While you are raging, you have advantage on saving throws against being frightened.

Additionally, as a bonus action on your turn, you can let out a defiant cry. Choose a number of friendly creatures you can see within 30 feet of you, up to your Constitution modifier (minimum of one). Each chosen creature gains temporary hit points equal to your Barbarian level + your proficiency bonus. You can use this feature once per rage.

PROTECTIVE INSTINCT

Starting at 6th level, you become a vigilant protector for your allies. When a creature you can see attacks a target other than you that is within 5 feet of you, you can use your reaction to impose disadvantage on the attack roll. You must be wielding a shield or a melee weapon to use this feature.

AURA OF COURAGE

Beginning at 10th level, your fearlessness radiates outwards, bolstering your companions. While you are raging, any ally within 10 feet of you has advantage on saving throws against being frightened.

UNSHAKEABLE HERO

At 14th level, your courage is absolute. You are immune to the frightened condition. If an ally you can see within 60 feet of you would be frightened, you can use your reaction to take the fear upon yourself instead. When you do so, you are frightened for 1 minute, but you can make a DC 15 Wisdom saving throw at the end of each of your turns, ending the effect on yourself on a success. While you are frightened in this way, your rage does not end early.

THE PROUDLY PUNGENT PATH

Where others see a messy problem, these Barbarians see a tactical advantage. The Proudly Pungent warrior weaponizes their... personal state... turning what would be a debilitating situation for others into a source of power. Their rage is fueled by a shameless embrace of their own foulness, creating a battlefield presence that is as demoralizing as it is destructive.

POWERFULLY PADDED RAGE

Starting when you choose this path at 3rd level, you draw strength from your loaded diaper. While you are raging, you gain the following benefits based on the number of used charges in your diaper:

- 1 or more used charges: Your melee weapon attacks deal an extra 1d4 poison damage.
- Diaper is full (all charges used): The extra poison damage increases to 1d8. Additionally, while raging, you can ignore any negative effects from a full, non-leaking diaper, including reductions to your movement speed.

AROMATIC ASSAULT

At 6th level, you can unleash your diaper's foulness upon an enemy. As a bonus action while raging, you can force one creature you can see within 15 feet of you to make a Constitution saving throw (DC equal to 8 + your proficiency bonus + your Constitution modifier). On a failed save, the creature is poisoned until the start of your next turn. You can use this feature a number of times equal to your Constitution modifier (minimum of once), and you regain all expended uses when you finish a long rest.

GUILLOTINE DROP

Beginning at 10th level, you can end your rage with a single, momentous attack. As an action, you can make a special melee weapon attack against a creature. This attack ends your rage immediately. If the attack hits, it deals an extra 2d10 bludgeoning damage plus another 1d10 bludgeoning damage for each used charge in the diaper you are currently wearing.

Upon using this feature, the diaper you are wearing is instantly destroyed.

MIASMA OF MISERY

Starting at 14th level, your stench becomes a debilitating cloud. While you are raging with a full diaper, the area in a 10-foot radius around you is considered difficult terrain for hostile creatures. Furthermore, any hostile creature that ends its turn in this area takes poison damage equal to your Constitution modifier.
